A Reflection by Fr. Manasseh

“AMEN, I SAY TO YOU. TODAY YOU WILL BE WITH ME IN PARADISE!”

With the celebration of the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe today, we shall bring to a close the Church's Liturgical Year. When we come to Church next weekend, we will celebrate the First Sunday of Advent which serves the dual purpose of ushering us into the Advent Season and effectively begins a new Liturgical year, Year "A." The Solemnity of Christ the King was instituted as a feast in the Liturgical calendar by Pope Pius XI in 1925, and in 1970 its observance was moved from October to the last Sunday of Ordinary Time and thus, the end of the Liturgical year. Pius XI had instituted this feast with his Encyclical Quas Primas as a response to growing secularism and atheism. He recognized that attempting to thrust Christ and His Holy Law out of public life would result in continuing discord among people and nations. The Solemnity reminds us that while kings, kingdoms and governments come and go, Christ reigns forever.

The First Reading provides an Old Testament foundation to Jesus' claim to eternal Kingship. The second book of Samuel recounts how David, ancestor of Jesus, was approached by the rest of Israel, his "bone and flesh," to ask him to become the Shepherd King over them. With this covenant request, David would go on to establish an everlasting dynasty that would prefigure the eternal kingship of his descendant, heir and successor, Jesus Christ. The First Reading also recalls that David, and by extension, his dynasty, was promised by God to be given kingship, not merely over Israel but over all nations, as well.

In the Second Reading, Paul thanks God the Father for giving the Church, the Body of Christ, a share in the kingship of Christ. The Apostle notes that through Him, we who were in darkness, have been delivered and transferred into the Kingdom of Light wherein we have been endowed with redemption and forgiveness of sins. He concludes by stating that through the shedding of His blood on the Cross (His throne), Jesus has reconciled all humanity with God. The Gospel passage presents a unique exercise of His Kingly Power by Jesus, clearly distinguishing between His Kingship and that of the Kingdoms and governments of the world. While He hung on the cross, crucified by those He came to reconcile to God, Jesus was recognized as "King of the Jews" by Pilate, mocked by Jewish leaders and local authorities and ridiculed even by a criminal, one of those crucified with Him. The latter had no idea what a privilege he allowed to pass. However, a second criminal crucified with Jesus rebuked his fellow condemned criminal and seized the opportunity to ask Jesus to remember him in His kingdom. He recognized the universal Kingship of Christ, seized the moment and so enjoyed the singular privilege of becoming the very first person to enjoy the fullness of the fruits of the redemptive work of Christ.

The Kingship of Christ is different from any other kind of rulership in this world. Jesus is a Servant King, a Merciful Judge, His throne is the Cross, the emblem of suffering and shame and so anyone who stands under His banner cannot wish away suffering for the sake of the kingdom and should embrace redemptive suffering in order to stay as subjects of His reign. Acknowledging Christ as King in our lives, homes, Church, community and time is not a matter of verbal declarations but of active witnessing by our life experience. If Christ occupies the most important place in our lives, if we consider His will over and above ours, if we live in accordance with His precepts and teachings, and if we constantly imitate His kindness and sacrificial love duplicating them in our lives, then He truly is King in our hearts.

May we humbly offer our wills in service to the Servant King, may Jesus reign in our hearts, and may we become true instruments of peace, love and godliness in our community.

Please be kind and may God bless you.

Fr. Manasseh

Thanksgiving Day Prayer

Dear Lord,
On Thanksgiving Day,
We bow our hearts to You in prayer.
We give You thanks for all You have done,
Mostly for the gift of Jesus Christ, Your Son.
For beauty in nature, in which we see Your Glory,
For joy and health, friends, and family.
For our daily sustenance, Your mercy and care,
These are the blessings You kindly share.
So today we offer this response of praise
With a promise to follow You all of our days.
Amen.

Update on the Construction of Our New Worship Space

Concrete has been poured for the elevated cry room and ramp, along with the floor of the Narthex where the footings have been installed. The floor of the choir loft and the stairs have been poured in preparation of the final flooring. Next week the lower Sanctuary is scheduled to be poured, including the ramp to the Sanctuary. The north transept is also scheduled to be poured.

The mason continues with the construction. The bell tower is at a current height of 40 feet, with 34 more feet to be added. The masonry work on the west end to enclose the building will continue as the concrete areas are poured.

Advent Begins Next Week

The liturgical year begins with the Season of Advent and includes the four Sundays before Christmas. The first weeks of Advent are marked by preparing for the second coming of Christ, while also recognizing his presence among us even now. As Christmas draws nearer, our focus shifts to preparing for the Nativity of the Lord.

Advent Wreath: Traditionally, Advent wreaths are constructed of a circle of evergreen branches into which four candles are inserted, representing the four weeks of Advent. Ideally, three candles are purple and one is rose. The progressive lighting of the candles each Sunday symbolizes the expectation and hope surrounding our Lord's first coming into the world and the anticipation of his second coming to judge the living and the dead. The first candle is Hope, then Love, Joy and the fourth one is Peace.

Treasures From Our Tradition

Today's solemnity, the final feast of the Church year, is a youngster as feasts go. In 1925, Pope Pius XI was distressed by global political upheaval and the de-Christianizing of society. That year was a "Holy Year," keyed to the sixteen hundredth anniversary of the Council of Nicaea, when the words "and of his kingdom there will be no end" were added to the Creed. The Pope explained that although most feasts had developed over many centuries, the Church sometimes provided a new feast to address new needs. He pointed to the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, showing Christ's love and compassion in a time when many people embraced a cold and gloomy spirituality. Originally on the last Sunday of October, in the late 1960s the solemnity of Christ the King was moved to the last Sunday of the year. Fresh from baptism's waters, we are anointed with chrism "as Christ was anointed priest, prophet, and king." This feast is a key to our identity. On this feast, we recognize Christ as a king who breaks the usual mold of kingship, and who shapes his kingdom with our hands, our words, our deeds of love and service.

—James Field, Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

Jesus, Remember Me

The man who hung on the cross next to Jesus asks him to "remember me when you come into your kingdom." Of all the people who took part in the crucifixion of Jesus, only this man sincerely acknowledges Jesus as King. Only he receives the promise of joining Jesus in paradise that very day. I wonder if he knew what Jesus' kingdom meant?

The second reading gives us a better idea of the extent of that kingdom. Paul uses images of things visible and invisible, of dominions, principalities, and powers. While the latter terms refer to types of angels, we can stretch our imagination even further. Notice one short phrase that appears six times in that reading: "all things." So do we really believe that Jesus is King of all things?

Some astronomers say that the universe is infinite. At first I thought, "That couldn't be right; only God is infinite."

But it occurred to me that an infinite God would want the universe to be a sign of divine glory, so why couldn't God make an infinite universe? So Jesus is King of that universe. While that sounds impressive, it might tempt us to forget about things closer to home.

If Christ is King of all things, that includes our possessions. We might keep that in mind, not only when deciding how much we give to the poor or to the Church, but also how we use the things we own. The things we watch on TV, the foods we eat, the books we read—all are under Jesus' kingship. Our own bodies belong not just to us, but also to Christ. I might even drive more carefully if I remember that my car belongs to the Lord.

Even our life is under his reign. That can remind us to trust Jesus more, as well as to ask for the guidance of his Spirit in our decisions. If we let the Lord guide our lives, we know that anything that happens to us is either God's will or something that Jesus can lead us through, on our way to paradise.

A Note From The SJB Principal

Dear Parishioners,

It's been an exhilarating and productive week and I am incredibly grateful to so many people for their interactions with our visiting accreditation team. On behalf of the Western Catholic Education Association, this visiting Accreditation Team of Catholic educators/administrators conducts a thorough investigation of every facet of our school and curriculum to assure the primacy of faith formation, the rigor of educational excellence, and the vitality that comes through continuous school improvement.

I would like to thank the parents, students, and finance team for their input and time with our campus visitors; thank you to our PTO for providing their usual exceptional hospitality; thank you to Fr. James and the parish staff for their extra support; thank you to our leadership team – Theresa Harvey, Jena Gump, Amy Pratt, and Hogan Macdonald – for their endless hours of preparation; and, of course, my sincere thanks to all of our wonderful teachers for the selfless job they do every day.

At the end of the week, the Accreditation Team determined that St. John Bosco Catholic School is “highly effective” in the capacity to implement and monitor the Action Plan. The success of SJB is attributed to the strong partnership among parents, administration, faculty, and staff.

Improving student learning is an ongoing process, and we will continue to work on our goals as we strive to make a great school even better.

Joyful Blessings,

Jamie Bescak, M.Ed., Principal
